

The Edible Relics 2

Named after a northern county's "gold," this ancient, airy vessel was designed to catch the dripping juices of a Sunday roast.

C U Y E S T R U C B S A Y E
L N B S R E I Z O C R C H L
A D A N O P S U R R O C I E
S E W O K A L S O I T L S C
S C S I S E H W U B A A T T
R I R T V O M R I F L I O R
O D P A U N C H Y I U M R O
O E R S F Y S M U D G E I N
M D C N R T S S E M E D O E
S E O E B R E W P O R K G G
C O N S I D E R I N G S R A
H V T Y P O R T O S I I A T
W E R E H E A R S E D L P I
A R I H U R C H E W S I H V
S L V A C I N O S A M S Y E
B A A R C L A Y S S S A L A
I P N A B E L O N G D B D C
S S C S D N A L D A E H I C
O N E S N O W C A P P E D E
N G S G N I T I B I H N I M

ACCLAIMED

ARROW

BASILISK

BELONG

BISON

BOULEVARDS

BREW

CHEWS

CLASSROOMS

CLAYS

CONSIDERING

CONTRIVANCES

COZIER

CRAFTER

CRIB

CURTSEY

ELECTRONEGATIVE

FIRM

FUSSES

HARASS

HEADLANDS

HISTORIOGRAPHY

INHIBITING

ISOTROPY

LASS

MASONIC

MECCA

MESS

OVERLAPS

PAEONY

PAUNCHY

RATIO

REGULATORS

REHEARSED

SCHWAS

SENSATIONS

SMUDGE

SNOWCAPPED

SWAB

UNDECIDED